Hill International offers a comprehensive range of project management and construction consulting services to various construction projects worldwide.

For more than four decades, Hill has provided innovative project management services on complex, time-sensitive construction projects around the globe. Our approach is based upon the fact that construction does not need to be contentious, or be mired in uncertainty and risk.

We deliver a comprehensive slate of project management services that minimize risk, from the earliest stages of planning and design through commissioning and closeout.
Our experience—more than 10,000 projects valued at more than $500 billion—includes some of the world’s largest, most iconic and most technologically innovative projects. No project is outside of the scope of our capabilities. Our professionals are the foundation of our reputation as an industry leader. They are highly qualified and respected in their fields, and known for their dedication and commitment to their clients’ success.

Together, our innovative approach, unmatched experience and truly dedicated staff help ensure that your next project can be built with confidence, and without risk. Hill’s services build confidence by helping clients successfully complete capital projects while minimizing risk, uncertainty and time- and budget-draining complexity.
