

Manolis Sigalas

President, Europe

Key Focus: Capital Programs and Transaction Diligence

Manolis Sigalas leads Hill's operations and growth across Europe.

He also supports Hill's team in India by fostering synergies between the regions. During more than two decades with Hill, Manolis has been responsible for leading major advisory assignments internationally. He has advised on infrastructure and real estate programs, helping clients navigate governance models, manage risk, and drive organizational transformation.

Manolis holds a Master of Engineering in Civil and Environmental Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and a degree in Civil Engineering from the National Technical University of Athens.

