

Junaid Mahoon

Vice President, Advisory

Key Focus: Executive Project Management & Capital Programs

Junaid Mahoon brings nearly three decades of leadership in program management and project controls, helping organizations plan and deliver large, complex, multi-billion dollar capital programs across energy, including oil and gas, mining, renewables, aviation, infrastructure, and digitally enabled operations. With a deep owner side perspective, he supports clients across the full lifecycle, from early development and engineering through procurement, construction, and operations readiness, risk management, strengthening governance and improving predictability in high stakes environments.

Junaid is known for integrating people, process, and technology to drive measurable outcomes. He builds high performing, cross functional teams and working across delivery models, implements practical control systems, including PMIS, reporting standards, dashboards, KPIs, and analytics, to improve cost and schedule visibility, reporting accuracy, and decision making. His leadership style is collaborative and engagement focused, balancing technical rigor with stakeholder needs to build alignment across all levels of an organization.
